The 2nd annual Pflugerville Comic Con featured authors, artists, voice actors, cosplayers, and local comic shop owners for a celebration of comics, anime and pop culture. Activities included Q&A panels, gaming, comic- and manga-related crafts, drawing lessons, face painting, and a cosplay contest for all ages. Approximately 2,000 people came out to get their geek on.

September 12th the library welcomed Kim Lehman's Tales and Tunes. Tales and Tunes combined songs, stories, props, puppets and participation for small children.

In honor of Hispanic Heritage Month, the library is hosting an exhibit of extraordinary Hispanic contributions in literature
